

10/15/2023 – I was getting ready to go pick my son, Rhett, up from his father's house and take him to Lewis Farms with some friends and family. While I was getting ready Andrew started picking a fight with me about how I'm not taking our son, Lincoln, with me and I explained that I wasn't. Andrew started talking about how he thinks I'm cheating on him and telling me that he knows I'm going to cheat on him, rather than going to Lewis Farms. He made comments about how he hates me more than he loves his son and how he hopes that I'm going to enjoy being a single parent. I told him that if he doesn't want his son, I would take him with me. I went to the living room and picked him up and started walking towards his bedroom to get him dressed. Andrew blocked me in the living room and started yelling and me and told me he was going to kill me multiple times. He told me he was going to wait until I was least expecting it. He kept yelling at me and wouldn't let me get through the walkway to leave, so I went over to the couch and climbed up on to the side table to walk around that way. While I was on the table with our son in my arms, Andrew grabbed my arms and threw me and our son off the table. I landed face down with my son under me. I instantly called the cops and when they arrived Andrew told them that he was trying to grab our son out of my arms, and he wasn't trying to push me. I didn't have any marks on my body at that time, so they didn't take him to jail. An ambulance showed up because our son had a mark on his back and the EMT said it looks like a rug burn. When I got back from Lewis Farms, I came home, and Andrew acted as if nothing had happened. Later on that night he made dinner and made a comment about having to make sure that I got the correct plate because of the poison. Below are images from the following two days of a bruise that was on my side and the rug burn on our sons back from the incident.

11/11/2023 – My brother was at my house and Andrew made a comment about how if he could change anything in life, he would have made sure to get a life insurance policy out on me.

11/12/2023 – The cops were called by a neighbor nearby because they heard yelling. Andrew and I were arguing that day about family issues. He told me that he needed space to breathe and relax, so I packed the kids up and started putting them in to the car to go over to my parents' house for the day. He then started yelling at me for taking the kids. I explained that I was giving him the space that he was asking for and that I would be back later that day. We were arguing back and forth, and I ended up leaving with the kids. I got a call a short time later from the police telling me that they think it's a good idea to stay away for the night. Andrew texted me every couple of minutes for the remainder of the night even after asking him to stop contacting me four separate times. He also continued to contact my family during this time and would not leave them alone. Andrew kept making comments about not being able to do life anymore and telling me about the life insurance policy that he's leaving behind for our son. I contacted the police after several messages about this for a welfare check.

11/13/2023 – When I returned home the following day, Andrew had disconnected my garage door. I went to take the garbage to the end of the driveway for pickup that morning and noticed that there was an empty weed killer, glass cleaner, and paint thinner containers at the top of the garbage along with some other random aerosol cans. I went through the rest of the house and found my old prescription ibuprofen bottles were missing and found a vibrator that I had stored in my dresser drawer was now ripped apart and in the trash.

11/14/2023 – Andrew came home from his friend's house and appeared to be under the influence of something. He was slurring his words and not making much sense. Our son started to cry in his bed, so Andrew got up and walked in there and walked right back out. He came back into our bedroom and stood at the side of the bed and stared at me for a half hour or so and then asked me if I was the one that got up and went in our sons bedroom. After that, we got into an argument and I asked if he could sleep in the living room. He told me that he's not going to do, so I got up and moved to the living room. A couple of minutes passed, and Andrew came into the living room, crouched down next to me and grabbed my crotch and told me "Just let me please you". I swatted his away and told him that he was making me uncomfortable. He went back into the bedroom and came out a couple more minutes later and asked me I would go and watch him jack himself off.

11/15/2023 – I gave Andrew a 30-day eviction notice, he grabbed it and saw it was an eviction notice, crumpled it up, and threw it on the ground. He told me that he's not going to get out on his own and he going to make whole process drag out as long as possible and make my life as miserable as he can for the time being. Andrew also told me that he
