MICHIGAN LEGAL HELP

Helping Michigan residents solve their legal problems

Congratulations! Your court forms are ready.

Now that you have your forms, use our instructions to learn about your next steps. The instructions explain what to do with your forms, step by step.

Read the instructions that printed with your forms.

Or, to find the instructions for these forms, visit MichiganLegalHelp.org. Find the specific Resource page that matches your legal problem and select your county. Instructions are just below the articles on each Resource page. If the page has more than one set of instructions, be sure to read the description for each one and pick the one that applies to you.

IMPORTANT REMINDER!

Below are reminders about issues you may need to take extra steps to address, such as contacting a lawyer. Use the Guide to Legal Help at <https://michiganlegalhelp.org/guide-to-legal-help> to look for a lawyer or legal services near you.

Financial Information Form:

Remember that if the defendant files an Answer, you must fill out the first two pages of the Domestic Relations Verified Financial Information Form and serve it on the defendant, unless you both agree in writing not to exchange the form. To learn more about what is required, go to the "Filing a Custody Case (Unmarried Parents)" Resource page

(<https://michiganlegalhelp.org/resources/family/filing-custody-case-unmarried-parents>) and select your county. Locate the instructions and read Step 8.
